

Hundreds of cardboard homes under this highway bridge to Seattle, Washington were destroyed. Together with students of a sculture class that i taught as a teacher assistant we built individual homes/ houses out of cardboard from the university within the next days. (each house for one homeless person)

